Use for both classroom and O&M lessons!

APH Talking PC Maps software provides spoken and on-screen map data and 13 million points of interest for U.S. states, territories, and Canada on one flash drive. It speaks on any Windows® computer, whether or not the computer has screen reading software installed. APH Talking PC Maps is a joint venture of APH and the Sendero Group LLC.

Using this software will help your students:

- Learn street layouts that are described verbally and shown graphically
- Explore 13 million points of interest, with phone numbers and addresses included
- Plan, print, and emboss routes
- Acquire concepts crucial to GPS use at their computer, before using new GPS hardware
- Receive the same information that sighted persons learn incidentally by seeing street signs and building names

New software version 2012 features:

- Easier PC interface
- Seamless process for downloading and installing updates
- Clear, online directions for installing, activating, and updating software and maps
- New downloadable User’s Guide
- A tool to help students discover what occupies their world and how to locate and interact with what they find

To Order

APH Talking PC Maps software, USB Flash Drive: 1-04105-00.....$299.00

APH Talking PC Maps is a great way to introduce students to using GPS functions in my classroom. Students enjoy looking up their home address, exploring their neighborhoods, and planning routes to their friend’s houses. All of the features of the software are accessible with keyboard commands. Students can plan a route for a mobility lesson and print the directions in print and braille for a local trip. If they are feeling really ambitious, they can plan a trip across the country!
