Please Note: While you're shooting and editing, please be mindful of the description that will be added by the Described Caption Media Program (DCMP) (www.dcmp.org) after the winning videos are chosen. An additional voiceover / narration track will be added to provide additional information about the subjects, scene, and actions that may not be accessible to viewers who are blind or visually impaired. If a particular scene is very "visual," leave a few seconds without narration for description to be added. Your music and/or natural sound will be "included" to accommodate the description audio, so please mix sound effects and music as you normally would.
